With Our Solons

Harmony, long the watchword of the democracy, appears to be a missing quantity with the legislators now at Carson. The craze to play politics has brought its reward, as was witnessed by the results obtained by the Esmeralda delegation when they joined forces with the Washoe representatives and boosted the Humboldt delegate into the speaker's chair in opposition to the candidacy of Cole of Nye. The defeat of Cole has several meanings. One is that the supporters of the anti-divorce legislation control the lower house. This is made evident by the activity of the Washoeites on behalf of Brandon, the speaker, and also by the election of Hacker of Reno as chief clerk of the assembly.

Two years ago Hacker was one of the democratic representatives from Nye county. During the early part of the session he introduced a bill for the amendment of the divorce law. Shortly afterwards he appeared before the supreme court, took the bar examination and was admitted to practice before the courts of this state. Within a few days afterwards Hacker arranged to enter a partnership with a young Reno attorney, also a member of the legislature. Then he arose on the floor of the assembly and attempted to kill his bill.

Hacker's original intentions were to go to the coast after the legislature adjourned. Had he moved to another state the divorce industry would have been of no benefit to him. But changing his mind and arranging for the Reno office, he knew that many young attorneys subsisted solely upon divorce cases. It was a case of the goose that laid the golden egg. His attempts to kill his own bill were fought. However, he had the majority and the measure met its death at the hands of the author.

Divorce legislation will not be the only proposition that will cause a hard fought battle during the present session. The move to have the capital taken from Carson and switched to Humboldt will surely come up. The same matter was considered two years ago, but at that time it was considered as a joke. However, joke as it may have been, the resolution passed the senate and would have passed the assembly but for the activity of the Ormsby delegation who steered the measure into a committee that was hostile to the move. There the bill sleeps. Had the Humboldt delegation in the lower house been awake success would have crowned their efforts.

The fate of such a bill introduced in the present legislature depends largely on the hospitality of the Carson people as displayed toward the solons. Should the resolution be introduced during the closing days of the session its passage is assured. However, to move the capital would require an amendment to the constitution of the state, and this in turn requires the passage of resolutions by two successive legislatures and then the matter is submitted to the vote of the people. Notwithstanding the actions of the legislators it is doubtful if the people would saddle such a debt as would result from the removal of the capital from Carson to Humboldt, upon the state.

But to return to the playing of politics by the legislature. Esmeralda lost patronage by joining forces with Humboldt and Washoe, although promises were made that the delegation from the adjoining county could have the naming of any number of attaches. There was a slip in the promises and Esmeralda received only what was graciously allowed, while many of the smaller counties were cut off at the pockets.

A great clamor has been raised by the democrats because they have cut off four of the attaches. This will mean a saving of possibly $300 or $400 during the session. At least four additional attaches could have been eliminated and the body would not be handicapped. Yet there was a chance to play politics by allowing a few of the faithful to feed at the pie counter and the job was filled. Retrenchment is all right if it is carried out consistently, but the half way methods as have been carried out do not bode well for the ultimate results.

Northern papers chronicle the presence of H. A. McCraney at the legislature. Who and what McCraney happens to be is a mystery. He appears at the various legislative sessions, looks wise and throws out

Rubber Goods

We have to be careful in the selection of rubber goods and you should be as careful as we are. Between the highest grade and the wholly bad there is not very much difference in external appearance, but the difference is soon found out if you happen to get hold of an unworthy kind. We carry different grades of which the cheapest are good and the best are the finest to be had. Each kind is sold for just what it is and at just the right price.

hints that he is working for the interests of the Southern Pacific, struts about town, refuses to buy a drink, and then makes his disappearance after the session adjourns. McCraney is a person of great importance, in McCraney's mind, but no record has ever been made of his accomplishments. Consequently the reason of his presence in Carson at the present session remains a mystery.
